Numb. 148.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Thurſday, September 9. to Thurſday, September 23. 1731.

Hague, July 17. N. S.

ALL our Letters from France continue full of the Reſentment of that Crown, which (they ſay.) is ready to burſt upon the Kingdom of Great Britain. They would perſuade us, that his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty will make Uſe of the King of Spain, notwithſtanding his Declaration, to revenge the Injury he imagines he has received from the Hands of the Engliſh: That in order thereunto, the important Fortreſs of Gibraltar, (Gibraltar which ſecures the Engliſh Shipping from the Corſairs of Barbary, and makes the Veſſels of that Nation the Carriers of Europe up the Streights) is ſhut in cloſer and cloſer by Sea and Land, with the Deſign to render it uſeleſs to the Engliſh: That the General Count de Montemar ſet out no longer ago than the 16th ult. by Order of his Catholick Majeſty, to go directly to the Camp before Gibraltar, and to give ſome Directions too important to be truſted by an ordinary Courier: That the ſaid Camp is to be conſiderably reinforced, more Troops being commanded thither from different Parts; and leſt any thing ſhould be wanting, a great Sum of Money has been ſent thither, to pay the Soldiers all that is due to them: Laſtly that they work without Intermiſſion upon the Forts which are building at certain Diſtances, and are almoſt in a Condition not to fear any thing, being well provided with Cannon to keep that Fortreſs in a manner blocked up; to ſecond which, there are ſeveral flat-bottom'd Veſſels and Spaniſh Galleys continually cruizing at the Mouth of the Bay. Add to theſe Preparations, thoſe which are carrying on in France, whoſe Sea-Armament they make to amount to no leſs than 30 Men of War. All this, ſay the French, is not for nothing; but we ſhall never know their Deſign till we ſee the Courſe of their Expedition.

July 18. The Letters we have juſt now received from Paris, give us a ſerious relation of a Fact, every Circumſtance of which ſeems to us to carry the Face of Invention. It is, that Mr. Keene having received orders from his Court, to repreſent to his Catholick Majeſty, that the Fortifications and other Works before Gibraltar gave juſt Alarms to the King his Maſter, who therefore inſiſted, that an immediate Stop be put to them; the ſaid Miniſter made ſuch a Repreſentation to the Catholick King; than thereupon his Catholick Majeſty ſent for the Marquis de la Paz, and asked him in what Condition the Works before Gibraltar ſtood; and that the Marquis having given him an Account of it, he ordered him to double his Diligence, that all might be finiſhed out of hand; and having ſo ſaid, that Prince turn'd about, and left Mr. Keene, without ſaying one Word more.

LONDON, July 8. The French having drawn 25000 Men down to Dunkirk, great Bodies of our Troops have been ordered down and quartered in Kent and Suſſex. But we hear, that on Sunday Night an Expreſs arrived at Hampton Court, with a Letter from Cardinal Fleury, to aſſure his Majeſty, that the March of ſome Forces toward the Sea Coaſt of France, was only for the Conveniency of Forage, which the late Drought in the inland Country had rendered very ſcarce; but that ſince the motion of thoſe Troops had given Umbrage at this Court, his Majeſty had given Orders for their Return to their former Quarters, he being reſolved to omit no Opportunity of ſhewing his ſincere Deſire of preſerving a ſtrict Amity with Great Britain. ----- What will theſe Forces do for Forage?

On Tueſday Sir Charles Wager ſailed from the Downs for Spithead. We hear he is order'd to go to Dunkirk with 8 Ships, to view the Fortifications before he proceeds to the Mediterranean.

Dunkirk, July 2. N. S. On Thurſday laſt we were ſurprized from the Watch Tower, with an Account of the Engliſh Fleet approaching the Coaſt; there being a ſure hand at the Look-out, he threw down to us as particular an Information as the Circumſtances of Weather would permit him to diſcover. He ſaid that the Ship that carried the Flag at the main topmaſt head, appear'd as big as our

Grand

Grand Louis, and that there were about fourteen others very little inferior to the Admiral. There were alſo 22 Men of War from 50 to 60 Guns, and the reſt were Fregates, Fireſhips, Bomb-veſſels and Tranſports. In leſs than an Hour, ſeveral Men, the moſt clear-ſighted in our Town, went up to the Watch-Tower, and ſaw them landing their Troops under the Cover of a Fog. This flung us into a terrible Conſternation; but the Governor had the Preſence of mind to go without his Dinner, and to prepare for a vigorous Defence. But a little before we were coming to Action, the Day clear'd up, and this monſtrous Fleet dwindled away to two French Fiſhing Boats, drove from Calais by a weſterly Wind.

PHILADELPHIA.

On Fryday the 10th Inſtant, Peter Murphy and Catherine Bevan were executed at New-Caſtle, the Man hanged and the Woman burnt, purſuant to their Sentence, for the Murder of Henry Bevan, Husband to Catherine. His Confeſſion taken before a Magiſtrate when he was firſt committed to Priſon, you may ſee in our Gazette of June 24. To the ſame purpoſe he ſwore againſt his Miſtreſs at her Tryal. But before his Death, he declared that he had wronged her much, that ſhe did not tie the Handkerchief round her Husband's Neck, and that the chief of his Evidence at Court was falſe; but that ſhe was the Promoter of all that happen'd, and conſented to what was done. She deny'd to the laſt that ſhe acted any Part in the Murder, and could ſcarce be brought to own that ſhe was guilty of Conſenting. Neither of them ſaid much at the Place of Execution: The Man ſeem'd penitent, but the Woman appear'd hardened. It was deſign'd to ſtrangle her dead before the Fire ſhould touch her; but its firſt breaking out was in a ſtream which pointed directly upon the Rope that went round her Neck, and burnt it off inſtantly, ſo that ſhe fell alive into the Flames, and was ſeen to ſtruggle.

Laſt Thurſday a Ship, bound from the W. Indies to Virginia, Capt. Williams, came into this Port, having loſt her Maſts in the great Storm of the 20th of Auguſt. She was met with ſome Days before the Storm by a large Pink, the People of which came on board to requeſt of Capt. Williams ſome Proviſions and an Anchor and Cable; and before they return'd acquainted him that they having been among the Portugueſe, had been ill us'd, and to do themſelves Juſtice had run away with the Pink which belong'd to the Portugueſe from the Iſland of Tercera; and that ſhe had a good Cargo of Merchandize on board. Capt. Williams prevaild with them to leave the Pink, and come all on board his Ship with the moſt valuable Goods; which they did, and Methods were taken to ſink her when they left her. They were in Number 8, but two of them left the reſt afterwards, and went on board a Sloop they met at Sea, with their ſhares of the Plunder. The other 6 were deliver'd up to Authority immediately upon their Landing here, and are now in Irons in the Priſon of this City.

Thurſday laſt, a certain P-----r ['tis not cuſtomary to give Names at length on theſe Occaſions] walking carefully in clean Cloaths over ſome Barrels of Tar on Carpenter's Wharff, the head of one of them unluckily gave way, and let a Leg of him in above his Knee. Whether he was upon the Catch at that time, we cannot ſay, but 'tis certain he caught a Tartar. 'Twas obſerv'd he ſprung out again right briskly, verifying the common Saying, As nimble as a Bee in a Tarbarrel. You muſt know there are ſeveral ſorts of Bees: 'tis true he was no Honey Bee, nor yet a Humble Bee, but a Boo bee he may be allow'd to be, namely B.F.

N. B. We hope the Gentleman will excuſe this Freedom.

Tueſday Evening, a Seaman on board a Snow lying at the Wharff, cut his throat with a Knife or Razor, and then jump'd into the River: But was taken out again immediately, and the Wovnd is ſow'd up. He is not yet dead.

Extract of a Letter from Barbadoes, Aug. 16.

Sir, I take this opportunity to inform you, that on the 13*th inſtant we had a violent hurricane, the like ſcarce known in the memory of man; large ſtones on the wharffs were carried along like feathers by the violence of the water, and abundance of damage done thereon, ſo that there is ſcarce any landing; a great many houſes have been blown down, and windmills laid flat to the ground,* 9 in Scotland; beſide a great number of warehouſes, ſtorehouſes, curing-houſes, &c. were blown down; his excellency's houſe is ſadly ſhattered, one half entirely down. Almoſt all the fruit is deſtroy'd, large trees pluck'd up by the roots, corn, graſs & ſugar canes ſpoil'd; moſt of the veſſels put off to ſea, and ſeveral are loſt; a boat might ſwim in broad ſtreet the flood was ſo great. Mr. Whiteſides, a conſiderable dealer at the crane is entirely ruin'd, with ſeveral others. The damage is almoſt univerſal. Proviſions advance prodigiouſly. Here has been a duel between Major Maſon and Col. Edward Chearnly; the latter was ſhot dead upon the ſpot, the bullet entring under his eye. We expect a ſpeedy change of government, our preſent Governor is preparing to depart, having ſent ſome of his effects aboard a veſſel to go for England. Driven out, 9 Ships, 6 Brigs, 6 Sloops, 7 Sugar Drogers, the Wind being from N. E. to E. S. E.
